

Final Week of Campaign Is Now Underway

The campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor moved into its final week with a flurry of television appearances, repeated charges and a confident forecast of victory by Orval F. Faubus.

Faubus, who is seeking a fourth term, said at a reception yesterday in Little Rock he wouldn't concede a county to his four opponents in the July 26 primary. "There are good possibilities of us carrying all of them," he said.

Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, one of his foes, challenged this with a forecast of his own victory in a runoff primary and a prediction that he would carry East and South Arkansas and Pulaski County and share in a three-way split in Northeast and Northwest Arkansas.

Faubus, Joe C. Hardin of Grady and J. L. Milnes Jr., all go on television tonight and Bennett has a TV appearance tomorrow. H. R. Williams of Walnut Ridge hasn't announced his close-out plans.

Faubus will end his campaign Saturday night in Jonesboro, while Bennett scheduled an election eve finale in his home of El Dorado.

Hardin and Williams both look to TV Saturday night to blast at Faubus, while the governor fired back in stump speeches at Blytheville, Paragould and Osceola.

Faubus yesterday told an estimated 1,600 to 1,800 well-wishers at the Little Rock reception, "I think that the election is already decided." He left attacks on his opponents to an aide, J. L. Bland.

Bland said Faubus would receive more than the 60 per cent

Ike Offers a Condition to Information

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—An obstacle to President Eisenhower's supplying Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, with top-secret national security information appeared today to have been cleared in a hurry.

Through a spokesman, Eisenhower made it plain late Sunday that he was willing to make such confidential data available during the campaign to Kennedy and his running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, on one condition. This was that they—as well as the leaders of the Republican ticket—had to accept it personally and not through go-betweens.

Kennedy had indicated that he planned to have representatives accept it on his behalf.

A few hours after the President's terms were outlined to Kennedy, the Massachusetts senator's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, read a rather vague statement to newsmen at Hyannisport, Mass., Kennedy's summer home.

Asked whether it meant Kennedy and Johnson were accepting the Eisenhower condition, Salinger replied:

"I would say yes."

Kennedy previously had announced plans to have Adlai E. Stevenson and Rep. Chester Bowles (D-Conn.) receive the confidential security information on his behalf.

Eisenhower's insistence on personal acceptance by the candidates was outlined at a news conference where White House press secretary James C. Hagerty reported those other developments:

1. At a two-hour Sunday meeting here, Eisenhower and Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson discussed strategy for dealing with a Kennedy proposal to hike defense spending by up to three billion dollars. Kennedy, a few days before he was nominated last week, said the increase should be voted when Congress convenes next month. The administration is against it on the grounds that enough defense money—almost 40 billion dollars—already has been appropriated for adequate security.

2. The conference between Eisenhower and Anderson also dealt with plans for checking other Democratic spending proposals the administration feels are unnecessary and prompted by vote-seeking motives. The President plans public expression of his views on this matter about the time Congress reopens shop—the Senate Aug. 8, the House Aug. 15.

3. Eisenhower this week will issue a statement reporting the budget surplus for the fiscal year which ended June 30. Administration sources in Washington have pegged the surplus at close to one billion dollars—five times as large as Eisenhower once predicted.

Dierks Forest Worker Dies

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Jasper Bailey, 33, a Dierks Forests employee, died today when the log truck he was driving ran off a pole. The truck was on Highway 16 miles northwest of here and struck a pole.

Negro Injured in Wreck at Fulton

Saturday night at 11:30 a.m. the Fulton River bridge on an auto driven by Jerry Cheatham, a 26-year-old Negro, collided with an Allied Moving Van with heavy damage resulting. Cheatham was critically injured and brought to a Hope hospital by an Oakesdale ambulance. State and Sheriff Department officers investigated.

Husband and 3 Children Found Shot

BALTIMORE (AP)—A waitress came home from work today and found her three young children and her husband all shot in the head. Her two sons, aged 9 and 11, died later.

Police would not say promptly who might have done the shooting because "right now the people involved are either dead or unconscious."

But J. Fred Gladstone, said that the father and husband, 40-year-old John Cooley Jr., had been despondent over being unemployed and the couple had been having "domestic troubles."

He also said a 33-caliber .38-man automatic was at Cooley's feet. Cooley was slumped in a chair on an enclosed porch and is in critical condition.

So is his 5-year-old daughter, Elizabeth. The dead boys were 9-year-old Franklin and 11-year-old John.

The 32-year-old mother, Elizabeth, first saw her daughter in her bed in a pool of blood upon returning to her five-room bungalow from work at a restaurant. She next saw her husband.

Mrs. Cooley ran screaming from the house and yelled to a neighbor "see what he did to my baby."

The neighbor, Mrs. Anthony Fazio, entered the house and going to the attic found the two wounded boys in their beds. Cooley, a television engineer, had been laid off seven months ago.

11 Persons Dead From Violence

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eleven persons died violently in Arkansas during the week ended at midnight yesterday. Four died in traffic accidents, three were drowned, two were killed by a train, one died in an elevator accident and one died after being gored by a cow.

Alvero Comlos Emiliano and Hernandez Luna Maximino, both Mexican nationals working as cotton choppers, were killed yesterday when they were struck by a Missouri Pacific train near Ferguson, 40 miles south of Helena. Railroad officials said they were sitting on the ties and the train could not stop.

Airman Robert B. Black Jr., 20, a Philadelphia, Pa., Negro stationed at Little Rock Air Force Base, drowned yesterday while swimming in a strip mine pit two miles south of Little Rock. He apparently suffered a cramp.

Says Hundreds Favor Mitchell

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Gov. Christopher Del Sesto of Rhode Island said today he had received hundreds of favorable replies to a letter he sent out suggesting that Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell be the Republican vice-presidential nominee.

The comments came, he said, from "many important leaders within the party and from all sections of the country."

Police Report a Wreck, Burglary

Hope City Police investigated a wreck Sunday and a burglary Saturday night. Officers said the V. C. Brown station on the Washington road was again hit by burglars and some $10 taken. It was the second time the station has been hit in less than a month.

Sunday near Tol-E-Tex City Officers reported a car driven by Louise Daugherty, rammed the rear end of another driven by J. D. Garidy of Malvern causing heavy damage to the Daugherty car. Louise Daugherty suffered a leg injury, reported Officer Clark.

Americans in Congo Evacuated

WASHINGTON (AP)—About half of all Americans in the Congo—roughly 1,000 men, women and children—have been evacuated thus far, State Department officials estimated privately today.

They said an official estimate will be issued after the department appraises a large number of evacuation operation reports which came in during the week-end.

Rockefeller to Convention at Odds With Few

By ROBERT T. GRAY

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller headed for this convention city today, at odds with fellow Republicans on several points including his refusal to second the nomination of Vice President Richard M. Nixon at the GOP National Convention.

Every current sign points to Nixon's nomination by acclamation at the convention, which opens July 25.

But Rockefeller, hailed by Republicans as a bright, new light in the party after his upset election victory in New York in 1958, has kept himself out of this main stream of Republican activity.

Although agreeing that Nixon "for all practical purposes" is the nominee, Rockefeller has kept himself open to a draft. Some think his arrival today with a large corps of advisers and confidants marks the beginning of a last-ditch effort to win the nomination.

Rockefeller is chairman of the 96-vote New York convention delegation, which he so far has held neutral. He may clarify his position today at a news conference, scheduled to be televised live in the East at 6:15 p.m. EDT.

Rockefeller will appear Tuesday before a committee drafting the 1960 Republican platform. The committee, headed by Charles H. Percy, Chicago business executive, will organize Tuesday morning.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, Republican national chairman, and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona also will appear before the committee Tuesday. Rockefeller will urge the committee to adopt his views on subjects ranging from nuclear testing—he wants it resumed—to medical care for the aged which he thinks should be handled through existing social security machinery.

On these and several other points he is in conflict with the national Republican administration. He has said much has been left undone in the fields of civil rights, national defense and foreign policy, among others.

Rockefeller has refused consistently to endorse Nixon or State without qualification whether he thinks the vice president is fully qualified to become president.

In a television interview in New York Rockefeller said he had turned down an invitation to second Nixon's nomination. He declined to say who extended the invitation. Rockefeller repeated his long-standing statement he would not become an active candidate for the nomination or accept second place.

This refusal to endorse Nixon or accept second place has touched off GOP charges Rockefeller is a divisive influence in the party.

Goldwater, a leading conservative and frequent Rockefeller critic who has some backing of his own for the presidential nomination, said in Phoenix, Ariz., he would ask delegates friendly to him to support the party's conservative wing if a convention fight developed. Goldwater mentioned no names, but it was understood that he would support Nixon over Rockefeller.

Cuba's Swing to Russia Has Slowed a Bit

By STANFORD BRADSHAW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cuba's swing toward the Soviet Union appears to be slowing under pressure from its Latin American neighbors, diplomats said today.

They pointed to a recent statement by a top Cuban official that the Cubans would fight any attempt to make their island a Soviet satellite. Cuba's apparent retreat from veiled threats against the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay, and Havana's mild reaction to a proposed review of threats to Western Hemisphere unity.

The observations came as the Organization of American States prepared to give final approval by an overwhelming vote to a call for its foreign ministers to meet to consider measures which affect hemisphere solidarity, the regional system, and democratic principles.

The 21-nation OAS Council met today to approve Peru's resolution for the ministerial meeting.

Diplomatic sources at the United Nations said another resolution dealing with Cuba—a charge by the Havana government that the United States is guilty of economic aggression—may be relayed to the OAS.

U.N. representatives from Argentina and Ecuador were expected to propose the move today when the Cuban resolution goes before the Security Council.

Cuba's U.N. complaint accuses the United States of attempting what Havana called economic strangulation through government actions related to sugar and oil.

Representatives of 17 countries in addition to Peru approved the call for the OAS ministers' meeting. Mexican and Venezuelan representatives, awaiting instructions from their governments, did not vote on the council call at a preliminary session Saturday in Washington.

The one-sided expression of opinion in the Saturday meeting was interpreted as strong Latin American aversion to Soviet interference in hemisphere affairs. Cuba was not mentioned specifically by name in the resolution but is the obvious target as the headgear for Soviet influence in the Western Hemisphere.

Generation of Weevils Dangerous

First generation boll weevils are going full blast in southwest Arkansas according to Extension Entomologist Grover Dowell in the cotton insect report for the week ending July 15.

"If general rains occur and temperature remains at the same level, there will be a staggering emergence of boll weevils the rest of the month. We are predicting considerable activity by July 21," Dowell says. At the present time there has been considerable grub kill in squares lying on the ground because of the extremely high temperatures.

There were 203 fields scouted in the southwest with 49 infested with bollworm and 161 with boll weevil. Average percent punctured squares was 18. Aphids, spider mites and plant bugs were not a problem in the fields scouted again this week.

Bollworm activity has currently been on the decline, however, this situation will change this week because third generation moths are emerging and are laying their eggs on the cotton plants. When the average temperatures is 80 to 82° F. and the relative humidity is comparatively high, the boll weevil developmental period is decreased to about 14 days.

Farmers who have had to apply control measures and have used phosphate insecticides have done an excellent job in bringing the boll weevil percent punctured squares down to a low level.

Dowell again reminds farmers to remember that the boll weevil has built up a resistance to the chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides and that if economic control is to be obtained they will have to use calcium arsenate, the phosphate insecticides or Sevin.

If bollworm control measures are needed, effective material to use are DDT at the rate of 1 to 2 pounds of actual per acre; endrin at the rate of 4 pounds of actual per acre; or Sevin at the rate of 1 to 2 pounds of actual material per acre. If aerial applications are used for bollworm control, make sure total volume is 3 gallons per acre.

Given 3 Days; Says UN Force Is Incompetent

By LYNN HEINZERLING

STANLEYVILLE, The Congo (AP)—The Congo government threatened Sunday night to appeal for Soviet military aid to kick out Belgian troops unless they withdraw within three days.

A minister of Premier Patrice Lumumba's government charged that the United Nations peacekeeping force pouring into the country is incompetent to deal with the situation.

The U.N. Security Council, prodded by the Soviet Union, is expected to meet Tuesday for a report on implementation of a resolution calling on Belgium to withdraw its troops from the Congo.

Gen. Henry T. Alexander, British commander of Ghana's army and head of its contribution to the U.N. force, said the situation in the infant African republic had "worsened all over."

Alexander flew from Leopoldville to this picturesque city 770 miles north of the capital Sunday to plant the U.N. flag and confer with Premier Lumumba and President Joseph Kasavubu.

The disclosure that the Congolese leaders were planning to invite the Soviet Union to send troops came from Jacques Lumumba, one of nine secretaries of state in the government and leader of the left-wing faction in the regime.

Shocked by the leakage of his government's strategy, Lumumba upbraided Lumumba before newsmen and told him, "I will take the most serious measures against you."

The premier, 34, did not deny the plan, and it was learned probably his government already has drafted a telegram for sending to Moscow.

The Soviet Union approved the sending of a U.N. task force to restore order in the turbulent Congo but at the same time condemned "imperialist intervention" in the African nation. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev last week promised Congolese leaders "the necessary help which may be required for the victory of your just cause."

Congolese leaders blamed the troubles in the country on the presence of Belgian troops, who showed no signs of withdrawing.

Even as Lumumba was conferring Sunday with Gen. Alexander, he got word that five platoons of Belgian paratroops were dropped into Kindu, about 325 miles south of Stanleyville, to disarm Congolese troops in that river port on the banks of the Lualaba.

Demanding that something be done, Lumumba told the general: "That is a situation created in the Congo by Belgian troops." Actually the disorders commenced and the Belgians intervened when units of the Congo's army mutinied against their white Belgian officers.

Alexander brought only a token force of 200 Ghanaian troops with him. Dressed in British-type uniforms with black berets and carrying rifles they got a smiling reception from Congolese soldiers at the airport. But the Congolese still ran the show.

Alexander flew to Stanleyville after Belgians in Leopoldville told him they planned to drop paratroops in the city.

The general found Congolese patrols cruising the streets with rifles and machine guns mounted on vehicles but otherwise the city appeared calm. Tension ran high, however, and white settlers showed fright.

After a six-hour visit, Alexander returned to Leopoldville, taking with him 17 English men, women and children. Embassy officials said missionaries in the Stanleyville area had decided to stay.

Antelope to Be Placed in County

At the meeting of the Hempstead County Wildlife Association last week it was announced that black buck antelope are to be brought into an area of the old Southwest Proving Ground in the very near future, and they will be the first such game in Arkansas. They aren't native to any part of the United States, but they are originally from Africa.

In reference to the Bois d'Arc Project, it was learned that work is now under way, and it will be done around the clock. Completion is scheduled for this fall. At that time the 720 acre permanent lake area will be stocked with "coaling-size" fish by the state, so that a period of time will not have to elapse before fishing can begin.

Would Make Bombing Fine Severe

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Pulaski Rep. Glenn F. Walther says he'll propose a bill in the 1961 Legislature to make bombing a crime punishable by a 10-year prison sentence and $25,000 fine.

Walther said Saturday he would propose that the penalty be mandatory—that is, not subject to suspension—and that persons convicted of participation in bombings not be eligible for parole or commutation of sentence.

Walther, who is opposed for another term by Louis Nalley of Little Rock, apparently assumed he would be back in the House.

Bombings are "a cowardly proposition," he said. "It's hard for me to think of a worse crime."

Little Rock has had three integration-related bombing incidents in a year. In the most recent case, FBI agents arrested three men Tuesday in connection with an alleged plot to dynamite a building at a Negro college. No blast occurred there, but shortly after the arrests a bomb damaged a school district warehouse.

Three blasts damaged two buildings and a car last Labor Day and a bomb Feb. 9 damaged the house of Carlotta Walls, a Negro missionary, said a recent school census showed 435,933 children between the ages of 6 and 17. This reflected an increase of 554 white and 3,212 Negro children since the last census in 1958.

More Students in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas may be losing population, but the number of its school age children increased by 3,766 during the past two years.

Arch Ford, state education commissioner, said a recent school census showed 435,933 children between the ages of 6 and 17. This reflected an increase of 554 white and 3,212 Negro children since the last census in 1958.

An old law was used to charge three persons arrested in the Labor Day bombings with the murder of a Negro child since the prison sentence under this law is five years.

The candidate speaking will be held at 5 o'clock Tuesday night at Sardis No. 2, north of Ozark. There will be supper prior to the speaking starting at 7 o'clock.

According to a notice from Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico, recent visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Field Jr. and daughter, Cathy.

Charles Carver left Monday for Little Rock to qualify in the USGA Golf Tournament. . . . players from all over the state.

Milo 100% Substitute for Hog Corn

How milo compares with corn for growing and finishing pigs was highlighted during the Swine Study Day here Thursday (July 14) at the University of Arkansas' South-West Branch Experiment Station.

Dr. P. R. Noland, animal and husbandman, reported that high quality milo can be substituted for as much as 100 per cent of the corn in the ration when the price of milo is 10 per cent less than the price of corn. This statement is based on feed required per pound of gain in five feeding trials.

He also gave results of feeding milo containing different moisture levels. One sample was harvested at 24 percent moisture content and preserved in 55 gallon drums with a polyethylene cover. This simulated storage in a silo. A second sample harvested at the same time was air-dried to 13 percent moisture. A third sample was taken from the field with 15 percent moisture. These three samples were fed free choice with supplement to pigs in dry lots who were compared to similar groups of pigs fed corn and supplement.

"On a dry matter basis, pigs fed the wet milo and those fed the field-dried milo required about half a pound more grain per pound of gain than those fed corn. Pigs fed air-dry milo required three-fourths pound more grain per pound of gain than those fed corn," he related.

Dr. Noland mentioned that an experiment is currently in progress to test means of improving efficiency of milo rations. One method being studied is the addition of small amounts of fat to the ration.

Dr. Warren Gifford, head of the department of animal industry and veterinary science, presided over the first Swine Study Day presented in the Hope area. C. M. Bittle, assistant director in charge of the Southwest Station, welcomed the guests at the start of the program. Dr. E. M. Crutley, Station director of Fayetteville, talked about agricultural research in Arkansas.

In another topic, Dr. Noland gave results of swine breeding research. Dr. K. W. Scott, associate animal husbandman, had two topics: "Comparison of various protein supplements for pigs" and "Value of antibiotics in swine finishing rations." A. L. Owen, Extension livestock marketing specialist, reviewed trends in feeder pig production. Dr. P. K. Lewis, assistant animal husbandman, discussed effect of pre-slaughter treatment on pork quality.

PORTRAIT OF A NATIONAL PROBLEM—Of the Glasgow, Mo., high school class graduating only two members, left, plan to stay in the community. Two are undecided. The remaining 32 of a class of 36 state they plan to move away. Here, in microscopic example, is the move from rural community to city that is a real problem. Though some will return to their own or other rural communities after more schooling, others will head directly for urban areas. This trend away from small towns can spell community ruin, and in metropolitan areas, influx adds to growing pains. At base of the rural-urban shift, say those close to the problem: The small town is in large measure dependent on a prosperous agriculture, and the farmer has not shared in the prosperity enjoyed by the rest of the economy.

of the vote he got in winning a third term in 1958. Bland predicted that Faubus would run even with Hardin in his home Lincoln County, had a chance of carrying Bennett's home Union County and would win Williams' home Lawrence County in a "hot contest."

When the election is over, Bland said, "four additional scalps (will) be added to the belt of the man from Madison County."

Bland dismissed the opponents' charges as "without foundation" and "ridiculous statements."

Bennett, in Little Rock, charged that Faubus' audiences at appearances around the state mostly were "state employees ordered to be present."

In his Saturday night TV speech, Bennett hammered on Faubus' segregation record, declaring that his (Bennett's) record would match the governor's. He also criticized Faubus for not going to the Democratic National Convention to fight against a strong civil rights plank adopted there.

He charged that Faubus had "boasted that Arkansas had integrated more schools than nine other Southern states combined" and quoted the governor as saying, "If Negroes and Whites want to go to school and church together and marry each other, that's all right."

Bennett also said that Faubus had promised in 1956 not to raise taxes, but had "raised every tax you have."

Williams' TV speech attacked the Faubus record. He said Faubus had spent $763,000,000 in tax money in six years in office and asked if the administration's accomplishments were worth this. He also said Faubus should take credit for school closings, population loss and a relative decline in personal income in the state.

Williams also said that if Faubus believed in local solutions for integration problems, he should not have interfered in Little Rock. Faubus called out National Guardsmen to prevent court-ordered integration of Central High School in 1957.

Hardin struck at the cost of trucking federal surplus commodities to distribution points, saying it had risen from 24.75 cents per mile in 1957-58 to 45.5 cents per mile in 1958-59.

Millsap, in Little Rock yesterday, said he had found dissatisfaction in East Arkansas with the national Democratic Party's civil rights plank. He said he would have attended the convention had he been governor.

Millsap declined to say who he would vote for in the November general election. "I am thankful that this is America," he said, "where each man's right to vote as he sees fit is never questioned or known." He added that he is a Democrat.

Millsap also said he was about ready to unveil a proposed constitutional amendment he says will preserve segregation.

The meeting adjourned and the membership in a body accompanied the ladies and were shown the number of improvements and attraction that had been added.

speeches, termed "utter nonsense" a Williams charge that the governor once ordered two state colleges integration. He cited a magazine article showing Arkansas had the second largest percentage gain in personal income in the past 10 years and asked, "Is this the misrule that Bruce Bennett is moaning about?"

He said his administration had abandoned the practice of sending prison farm convicts to work on plantations and added, "A certain farmer near Grady should know more about this than I do." Hardin operates a farm near Grady.

Millsap, Faubus said, had attacked the administration for proposed abandonment of the Arkansas 1 Ozarks Railroad in North-west Arkansas, but hired the railroad attorney as his lawyer.

Faubus also defended his shaking hands with Mrs. Daisy Bates, Arkansas head of the National Assn. for the advancement of Colored People. Bennett has used a photograph of this against Faubus, charging that the governor "sold out" to the NAACP.

Faubus said that he had refused to meet Mrs. Daisy Bates and the West Indian dignitary she brought to his office "the (Arkansas) Gazette would have had to enlarge its presses just to get the headlines about my rudeness big enough." The Gazette has been critical of Faubus since 1957.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice McClelland and Gerald and Jerry Westmoreland spent Wednesday at Camp Albert Pike.

The original Arkansas county was established by the Missouri Territorial Legislature, December 31, 1813, and included about nine-tenths of what is now the State of Arkansas.

Cuba and U.S. Take Trouble Before UN

BY WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Cuba and the United States bring their charge and counter-charges of economic aggression before the U.N. Security Council today.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa had a two-hour speech ready in support of his government's complaint against the United States. U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge prepared a one-hour reply.

After this exchange, Argentina and Ecuador were expected to propose that the 11-nation council suspend consideration of the dispute while the Organization of American States takes it up.

Diplomats said that if Cuba opposed his proposal and its friend the Soviet Union voted against it, Mario Amadeo of Argentina and Jose A. Correa of Ecuador would argue the resolution was procedural and therefore the negative Soviet vote did not count as a veto. But Amadeo and Correa were reported hopeful of winning Cuban over—and thus avoiding a Soviet negative vote—by putting a provision into the resolution calling for conciliation.

In his complaint to the council last Monday, the Cuban foreign minister accused the United States of "a policy of intervention in Cuba's domestic affairs and of economic aggression." He said international peace was endangered by its "repeated threats, harassments, intrigues, reprisals and aggressive acts."

Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime also charged the United States had given Cuban war criminals "facilities for plotting against the Cuban revolution, that planes from the United States had caused death and damage in Cuba, and that President Eisenhower and other officials had made statements "derogatory to our self-determination."

The United States did not file a counter-complaint with the council. But Saturday it sent Cuba a diplomatic note accusing that country of economic and political aggression.

Donovan's Horse took a Stroll

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Pat Donovan's horse escaped from a stable last night and went strolling down Main Street.

He saw his reflection in a store window, kicked out the glass, and climbed into the store.

"He couldn't find himself in there," Donovan said, "so he came out."

A stablehand caught the horse and locked him up.

Mrs. Thompson died instantly, Coroner R. M. Humphrey said. He said an inquest would be held. No charges have been filed.

Shot and killed was Mrs. Lorene May Thompson, 49, who had accused Mrs. Mildred Adams, 38, a widow, of having an affair with her husband, Bob Thompson, 55. Mrs. Adams is recovering from stab wounds.

Police said the argument took place at Mrs. Adams' home where Mrs. Thompson and her son by a previous marriage, Bill Cobb, 32, had gone. Cobb and Thompson started fighting.

Mrs. Adams said she retreated to her kitchen and got a .32-caliber pistol for protection. She said she heard someone come in, fell

State Road Spending $33 Millions

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas spent $33,500,000 for interstate roads in the fiscal year ending June 30 and plans to spend about $20,000,000 more during the next 12 months.

Chief Engineer Ward Goodman of the Highway Department said the figures. The 1959-60 total brought to $92,950,400 the amount the state has spent on the interstate system since the program started.

Only about $10,000,000 of the total has been state money. The rest was provided by the federal government on a nine to one matching basis.

Arkansas will have three interstate routes—No. 40 from Memphis to Fort Smith, via Little Rock; No. 30 from Little Rock to Texarkana; and No. 55 from West Memphis north to the Missouri line.

Goodman said interstate projects on the schedule for this year include the remainder of the Little Rock Expressway and some work on Interstate 40 near Fort Smith, West Memphis and Tusculumville; on Interstate 30 between Benton and Malvern and on Interstate 65 in Mississippi County.

Each group claims the other is getting the jump in stalking the state's deer.

The gun hunters claim the archers are being treated as a special privilege group with a longer season.

They say the bowmen scare away the deer before the regular hunting season opens and that too many deer are left wounded in the woods.

The archers say the gun hunters scare the deer with their bounds, horns and guns and that shotguns wound more deer than arrows.

They say the longer bow season means little because there are fewer bow and arrow hunters. Archers claim they trespass less than gun hunters since their numbers are fewer.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N.Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.

TO THE VOTERS OF HEMPSTEAD COUNTY:

Since I announced my candidacy for a second term to the office of Sheriff and Collector, I have made a major effort to see each and every one of you personally and ask for your vote and support in my behalf. I have tried not to neglect my duties as your Sheriff and Collector during this campaign period.

If there are any that I have failed to talk with personally, I want to take this means of expressing my sincere gratitude to you for the honor of having been your Sheriff and Collector for the past two years and to humbly ask for your vote and support in my behalf in the July 26th primary election.

My aim for the past two years has been to serve you, the people of Hempstead County, to the very best of my ability both in the Sheriff's office and in the Collector's office. That will continue to be my objective if you see fit to again elect me your Sheriff and Collector.

Shower Springs H. D. Club Meets

The meeting of the Shower Springs Home Demonstration Club on July 14 was in the home of Mrs. Edward Evans. The president, Mrs. Clifton East, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Evans then presented a beautiful devotion, "The Hands of Jesus," using John 20:19-21 as her scripture.

Misses Sharon Evans and Judy Reddin sang a duet, "Someone to Care," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. James Helm. Mrs. George Crews led the group in prayer.

Club members answered the roll call with "My Favorite Salad." Mrs. Joann Phillips, Home Demonstration Agent, gave an illustrated talk on "Salads and Their Preparation." She also distributed some recipes that sounded appetizing.

Tea drinks and cookies were served for refreshments. The August club meeting will be held at Fair Park, and the members' families are invited.

Forrest Hill H. D. Club Honors Miss Scottie Owen With Bridal Shower

The Forrest Hill Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. P. H. Coffield, on July 14. The house was called to order by the president, Mrs. Mae Jones. Devotional was given from Luke 6, by Mrs. Cora Coffield. Mrs. Coffield led in prayer. There were eleven members present, thirteen visitors and one new member, Mrs. Carrie Ward. The door prize was won by Miss Scottie Owens, bride-elect of Ed Paetzel, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Owen. After the meeting was adjourned the club honored Miss Scottie Owens with a bridal shower.

Lula McSwain Society of Emmet Methodist Church Meets

The Lula McSwain Society of Christian Service of the Emmet Methodist church met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Otis Breed, whose outdoor living room was beautifully decorated with summer flowers, co-hostesses were Mrs. Basil Munn and Mrs. L. L. McCauley. Mrs. Joe Bealy, President, presided and the meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. D. L. McCauley. Minutes of the last meeting were given by the secretary. Reports from each committee were given.

Following the business, Mrs. Karl Weeks presented the program on "Christian use of Leisure." Mrs. J. M. Johnson closed with prayer. Following the program the guests were invited into the living room where delicious frosted punch and cake was served.

Mrs. Edward G. Paetzel

The marriage of Miss Scottie Jodie Owen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Owen, Highway 4, and Edward G. Paetzel, son of Capt. and Mrs. F. C. C. Paetzel of New Orleans, La., was solemnized at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, July 16, with a double-ring ceremony in the First Methodist Church in Hope. Rev. Rufus Sorrells officiated as the nuptial vows were exchanged before an altar banked with emerald palm, fern, and ivy, tall baskets of gladioli and burning tapers in cathedral candelabra. Family pews were marked with white satin ribbons and clusters of miniature mums.

Before the wedding march, Mrs. B. C. Hyatt, organist, played a medley of pre-nuptial music and accompanied soloist, Miss Margaret Nelle Medders who sang, "Through the Years" and "O Perfect Love." Candles were lighted by Kenneth Dixon, Waterloo, and Thomas Munn of Badcou, cousins of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original wedding gown of French rose-patterned hand-embroidered Chantilly lace and imported tulle over silk tulle. The lace over tulle bodice had a deep decollete edged with tulle folds and cap sleeves of lace. She wore matching lace gauntlets buttoned at the wrist. The bride's multi-tiered fingertip length veil of imported silk illusion fell from a scalloped seed pearl coronet. For her bouquet, the bride carried a white orchid on a lace prayer book with streaming cascades of spray orchids, stephanotis, satin ribbon, and ivy. The bride's only jewelry was her fraternal grandmother's wedding ring and a single strand of heirloom pearls. Mrs. Boyd Shook of Oklahoma City was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mesdames: Steve West of Fort Worth, Tex.; Richard Hewitt of Lafayette, La.; and George Hodge of Fayetteville, Ark. The female attendants wore identical Dior blue sheath dress of silk shantung with matching gathered silk organza overskirts. For accessories, they wore white wrist gloves, shoes and picture hats with blue bows. They carried bouquets of white roses with blue streamers. Misses Susan West of Fort Worth and Elizabeth Shook of Oklahoma City were their aunt's flowergirls. They wore dresses of matching blue fabric with a ring of rosebuds in their hair. They carried baskets of flowers decorated with blue streamers.

Mr. Bud Hardman, Dallas, Tex., served as bestman. Groomsmen were Steve West of Fort Worth, Dr. M. B. Shook of Oklahoma City and Richard Hewitt of Lafayette, La. Scott Hewitt, wearing a white suit and carrying a lace covered pillow, was his aunt's ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother wore a dress of mauve colored lace dress with scalloped neckline. White accessories and a corsage of gladioli complimented her dress.

At the reception following, the bride's table was laid with pastel blue net over matching cloth and decorated with white tapers and flowers. Presiding at the punch bowl were Misses La Donna Jett and Charlean Newell of Fort Worth, Tex., while Miss Marilyn Gunnels of Magnolia, served the wedding cake. Mrs. Don Robinson of Dallas, Texas, served coffee and cake at the groom's table topped with white linen cloth and adorned with a single taper. Mrs. M. B. Shook of Oklahoma City had charge of the groom's table where the bride's book lay on a pastel blue cloth beside a large silver bowl of rice. Also assisting in the houseparty was Mrs. Carrie Martin, Emmet.

Wife-Trading Leaves Doubts About Happiness

BY HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen Worden Erskine: I am an unwed mother who gave up her baby for adoption. I lived in a home for unmarried mothers. I have seen girls give their babies to their social workers when doing would have been easier, but these girls had the courage to rise above their own selfishness. Why should an unwed child pay for its sin when it is committed? Placing a baby for adoption gives it a fair chance for happiness. The people who now have my child would three years for a baby. I know they will love him as much as I could. I have a friend who had to get married, but its parents have filed for divorce. What chance has that baby for happiness?

We who give up our babies never forget them, but we have the satisfaction of knowing they are well taken care of. I am a graduate nurse and a dentist. I read your column constantly and have had many problems solved by the advice you gave others. —Unwed Also

Dear Unwed Also: Yours is a courageous letter. May it help others to make the same difficult decision which you faced.

Dear Helen Worden Erskine: I am 24 years old, have been married six and a half years and have four children. My husband was 27 last month. When we married I think he loved me as much as I loved him. A year ago one of our daughters was very ill and had to be taken to the hospital. My husband left me to face this alone without car or money. My Dad brought us home. Since then my husband has come and gone without a word of explanation. He is a logger but I don't know where he works, when he gets off or how much money we've got. He says it's none of my business. I have threatened to leave but I still love him. I have tried to get him to a marriage counselor but he refused. He thinks I should welcome his love-making. It's hard when he comes home after being out all night. I feel dirty and cheap. All this makes me nervous. It has made the children nervous too. I don't know what to do, where to turn. He has left me here in a rural home with no car, no money and knowing

Sievers' Starts Hitting, Sox Start Climbing

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer

When the Chicago White Sox were in spring training the experts wrote that Roy Sievers' hitting and the pitching of men like Bob Shaw and Early Wynn were going to help them win another American League pennant.

Wynn didn't win a game until May 15. Sievers was batting .182 on May 30 and Shaw had been just so-so. The experts were looking inexpert.

But the White Sox are rolling now, sitting in third place only a half-game behind the runner-up Cleveland Indians, and only two games off the New York Yankee pace.

Sievers extended his consecutive game hitting streak to 20 Sunday with a game-winning single in the 2-1 first game victory over Baltimore and a two-run homer and single in the 14-2 second game romp. Shaw won the opener with a six-hitter and Wynn won his fifth behind an 18-hit attack in the second.

While the White Sox were quickening their steps, the Yankees and Indians both continued their slumps. Detroit knocked off the Yankees twice, 12-2 and 3-2. New York has lost eight of its last 11 games. Washington beat Cleveland 9-2 and 5-3 after dropping 10 in a row to the Indians.

Boston ran its winning streak to seven with a 4-2 victory at Kansas City, where Pitcher Tom Brewer won his sixth and also hit his first home run of the year.

St. Louis elbowed its way into third place in the National League, six games off the top, by beating Chicago twice, 6-0 and 6-1. Pittsburgh dropped the opener to Cincinnati 6-5, but came back to win the second 5-0. Milwaukee cut the Pirates' lead to 2 1/2 games by slugging the Phillies 7-3. San Francisco knocked Los Angeles into fourth place with a 5-4 decision on Willie Mays' eighth-inning triple.

Sievers' winning single in the first game at Chicago came after catcher Clint Courtney had lost his foul in the sun. Two walks by loser Steve Barber and a sacrifice set the stage for Sievers' "second chance" hit. Sievers slammed his 14th homer with a man on in the first inning of the second game. Gene Freese added a three-run homer in the sixth.

Frank Lary, a nonwinner since June 15, beat the Yankees in the first game as the Tigers rapped Ralph Terry and two successors for 11 hits, including homers by Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash. The second game at Detroit was delayed for 10 minutes when fans threw programs, beer cans and shoulders the responsibility placed upon him, and the danger of propaganda rather than facts.

Miss Shirley Robinson, recently graduated from A. M. & N. College, Pine Bluff, Ark. was guest soloist and Miss Callie Hicks presented an instrumental solo, "Clayce B. Smith, Assistant Home to the program."

Out-of-town guests were from Texarkana and Pine Bluff, Ark. and Grand Rapids, Michigan, H. L. Washington, President.

MD Club Holds Meeting

The Nolen Home Demonstration Club held its regular meeting in the home of Mrs. J. B. Warren on July 14 with six members present. Devotion was conducted by Mrs. Susie Bell.

Discussion for the day was "Kitchen Problems." After the business session and discussion, refreshments were served by the hostess to the members and one guest, J. B. Warren.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Minervia Snowden on July 28, at 2 p. m. Mrs. Minervia Snowden, President; Mrs. Susie Bell, Reporter.

Coming And Going Mrs. Frances Phillips has as house guests recently, her daughter, Mrs. Irene Bridges and daughter of Chicago, Ill., her sister, Mrs. Mary Johnson of Fresno, Calif., her son Ralph Palmer of Grand Rapids, Mich., and her niece, Mrs. Minervia Frierson and children of Chicago.

They all have returned to their homes. Mrs. Bridges was accompanied home by her daughter Patricia who lives with her grandmother, Mrs. Phillips.

Miss Nancy Jo Scott motored to Los Angeles, Calif., with Mr. and Mrs. John Ware, where she will spend a few days visiting, and then go on to Oakland, Calif., to spend the summer with her mother Mrs. Mattie Charles.

Hitting - Roy Sievers, White Sox, extended consecutive game hitting streak to 20 with game-winning single in first game victory Sunday over Baltimore 2-1 and two-run homer and single in second game 14-2 romp.

St. Louis Cardinals' home run king, Stan Musial, hit his 10th home run in the first game at St. Louis, 6-0, and was named National League race with 6-0 and pieces of bleacher seats to the field in protest of a ruling that Bill Skowron's two-run homer was a fair ball. Skowron's homer tied the score in the eighth, but Detroit won it with a run off relief man Bobby Shantz in the last of the eighth. Pete Burnside was the winner.

"Stabbing A Yaqui. In the bathroom," said an officer.

They could hear him moving about in the limited space, and questioning ceased until he re-entered.

"He's dead," said the police doctor, sententiously. "Knife wound. Heart. What you want to know?"

"Now take me," said Artemus. "I'm an interested party. What's your guess how long he's been kaput?"

"Without a post-mortem," the doctor said, "I'd hazard he'd been dead more than four hours and less than six."

The Mayan Indians didn't just cheer their basketball stars — they gave them the shirts off their backs. The object of play was to shoot a ball through a stone ring set high on a wall. Whenever a player succeeded in this difficult feat, fans threw their possessions to him. But when fans didn't throw gifts, the players helped themselves. Well-dressed spectators had to run for cover after a successful shot to save their garments.
